1. Introduction

The non-profit initiative “Leonardo 4 Children 2020: Climate Action” is dedicated to environmental sustainability and climate action, and aims to empower children and young people across Europe to contribute to address the issue of climate change.

This is the 2020 edition of the non-profit initiative “Leonardo 4 Children” which started in 2019 and includes competitions which represent a kind of “Nobel prize” for children. In fact, if Leonardo da Vinci were reborn again 500 years after his death, he would not need to solve the problems of discovering the functioning of human body, or inventing ways to make man flying, or inventing machines: he would likely focus on using creativity to solve the existential problem of climate change which threatens our lives. Thus, children and young people are invited to become the new Leonardo da Vinci of 21st century:

“Every child can be a genius !”

The initiative has following objectives:

- Stimulate the creativity and participation of European children and youth on art and science topics, inspired by the example of Leonardo da Vinci, to contribute to their balanced development and psycho-physical well-being;
- Support children in need - primarily orphans or abandoned children and primarily in developing countries - to develop their artistic and scientific skills and develop their personality, and help them to overcome post-traumatic stress;
- Create a cultural and solidarity link between children with higher and those with lower opportunities, such as between European children and children in developing countries outside Europe, showing that all children have similar potential to create and be “genius”.

2. Background

The initiative is managed by the non-profit foundation “Carano 4 Children”¹ (the “foundation”), in cooperation with several partners, and follows the success of the previous initiative “Leonardo 4 Children 2019”, which took place on the occasion of ¹The “Carano 4 Children” foundation has the mission to help children in need, in particular orphans and abandoned children, to develop their creativity and skills via art and science. The foundation has been created in memory of Luigi and Erika, two married top aeronautical engineers from Italy with incredible talent in arts and science.

the 500-year anniversary of Leonardo da Vinci's death (1519-2019), and 30-year anniversary of the UN Convention of the Rights of the Child (1989-2019).

Patronage has been provided by the European Commission, the European Parliament, Tuscany region, Lombardy region, Centre Val de Loire region, Ambrosiana Library, and support has been provided by UNESCO.

The initiative included three European competitions on the Fables of Leonardo da Vinci illustrated, on the Fables interpreted in music and on Art & Science, with the participation of 709 children and young people from 15 EU countries, and several concerts and events in Turin, Florence, Brussels, Milan and Rome, in favour of beneficiary projects to help children in need with art and science education in Jordan, Kenya, Ukraine and Italy.

3. “Leonardo 4 Children 2020” competitions

The initiative “Leonardo 4 Children 2020: Climate Action” includes the following competitions across the European Union:

1. European competition on “Fables on Climate Action” for 6-12 years old children, between 30 Nov. 2019 and 1st June 2020;
2. European competition on “Art & Science on Climate Action” for 13-18 years old teenagers, between 30 Nov. 2019 and 1st June 2020;
3. European competition on “Fables on Climate Action in music” for 18-30 years old music composers, between 15th July 2020 and 30 Oct. 2020.

The competitions will allow children and young people across the European Union to use and further develop their STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics) skills, inspired by Leonardo da Vinci.

The winning works will be published in a “Leonardo 4 Children” multimedia product which will be used for fund raising on no-profit basis, and will receive special recognition by being promoted in public events and famous places, and special awards.

The competitions §1 and §2 are part of the 2020 STEM Discovery Week, co-organised by Scientix (the community for science education of Europe, managed by European Schoolnet, www.scientix.eu), including Ministries of Education, schools and teachers across the EU, and will be promoted via websites, social media and link from other third parties active in education, art, science fields.

4. Beneficiaries

The funds and material raised by the initiative will be entirely used for education of children in need, such as orphans, abandoned children, children without parents, sick children, children in refugee camps. The funds will be entirely used to educate children on “art” and “science” with material, such as toolkit and educational staff expenses, via “implementing partners”.

The “implementing partners” are organisations which operate to support children on the field and have excellent implementation capacity, high transparency standards and high reputation. A specific written agreement will be signed with each partner organisation specifying the objectives, the use of funds, the conditions, the reporting and auditing criteria, and joint promotion.

The majority of the funds will be used to support children in need located in countries outside the EU, selected via public call for proposals.

For reference, these projects have been selected via an open call in 2019:

- Art and music for children in refugee camps in Jordan, UNICEF;
- Art, theatre & science for street and slum children in Kenya, Action for Children in Conflict (AfCiC) and Fondazione Pianoterra;
- Art and science for orphans and abandoned children in Ukraine, Charity May.

Other projects are supported via specific “Leonardo 4 Children” initiatives and events in favour of children in need via art & science, such as:

- Support to orphans and abandoned children and care-leavers in Kyrgyzstan, in cooperation with Oasis;
- Support to children via play therapy at Meyer Children's Hospital in Florence, Italy;
- Support to children in schools in suburban areas via art and music, in cooperation with MUS-E Italy.

5. Supervision

The initiative is launched by the foundation “Carano 4 Children”, and is supported by the “Leonardo 4 Children” Advisory Board which includes about 15 professionals acting pro-bono and on a personal basis, of five different nationalities with extensive multi-disciplinary experience in children’s education, culture, music, science, development aid and philanthropy.

6. Events

Concerts and events will be organised to promote the works of the winners of the competitions and to raise funds in favour of support children via art and science, partly for children in need located in the hosting country of the event, and partly for children in need in a country outside the EU, based on a twinning and solidarity approach.

The following events are planned:

- Winners announcement: Turin, Music Conservatory G. Verdi, 25th September 2020;
- Creative workshop: Brussels, 24th October 2020
- Award ceremony: Brussels, BOZAR, 25th October 2020
