

The Treasure of
The Ocelot and The Dolphin

Julieta Arango & Olivia Alvarez

7 & 6 years old

Bethlemitas School, Medellín Colombia

Once upon a time there were a night full of stars where the forest and the river meet, a pink dolphin and an woolly ocelot find each other and became best Friends

Each one told the other about the magic of their house, the dolphin woke up surrounded by fish of different colors and sizes, calm sounds, bubbles and floating plants.

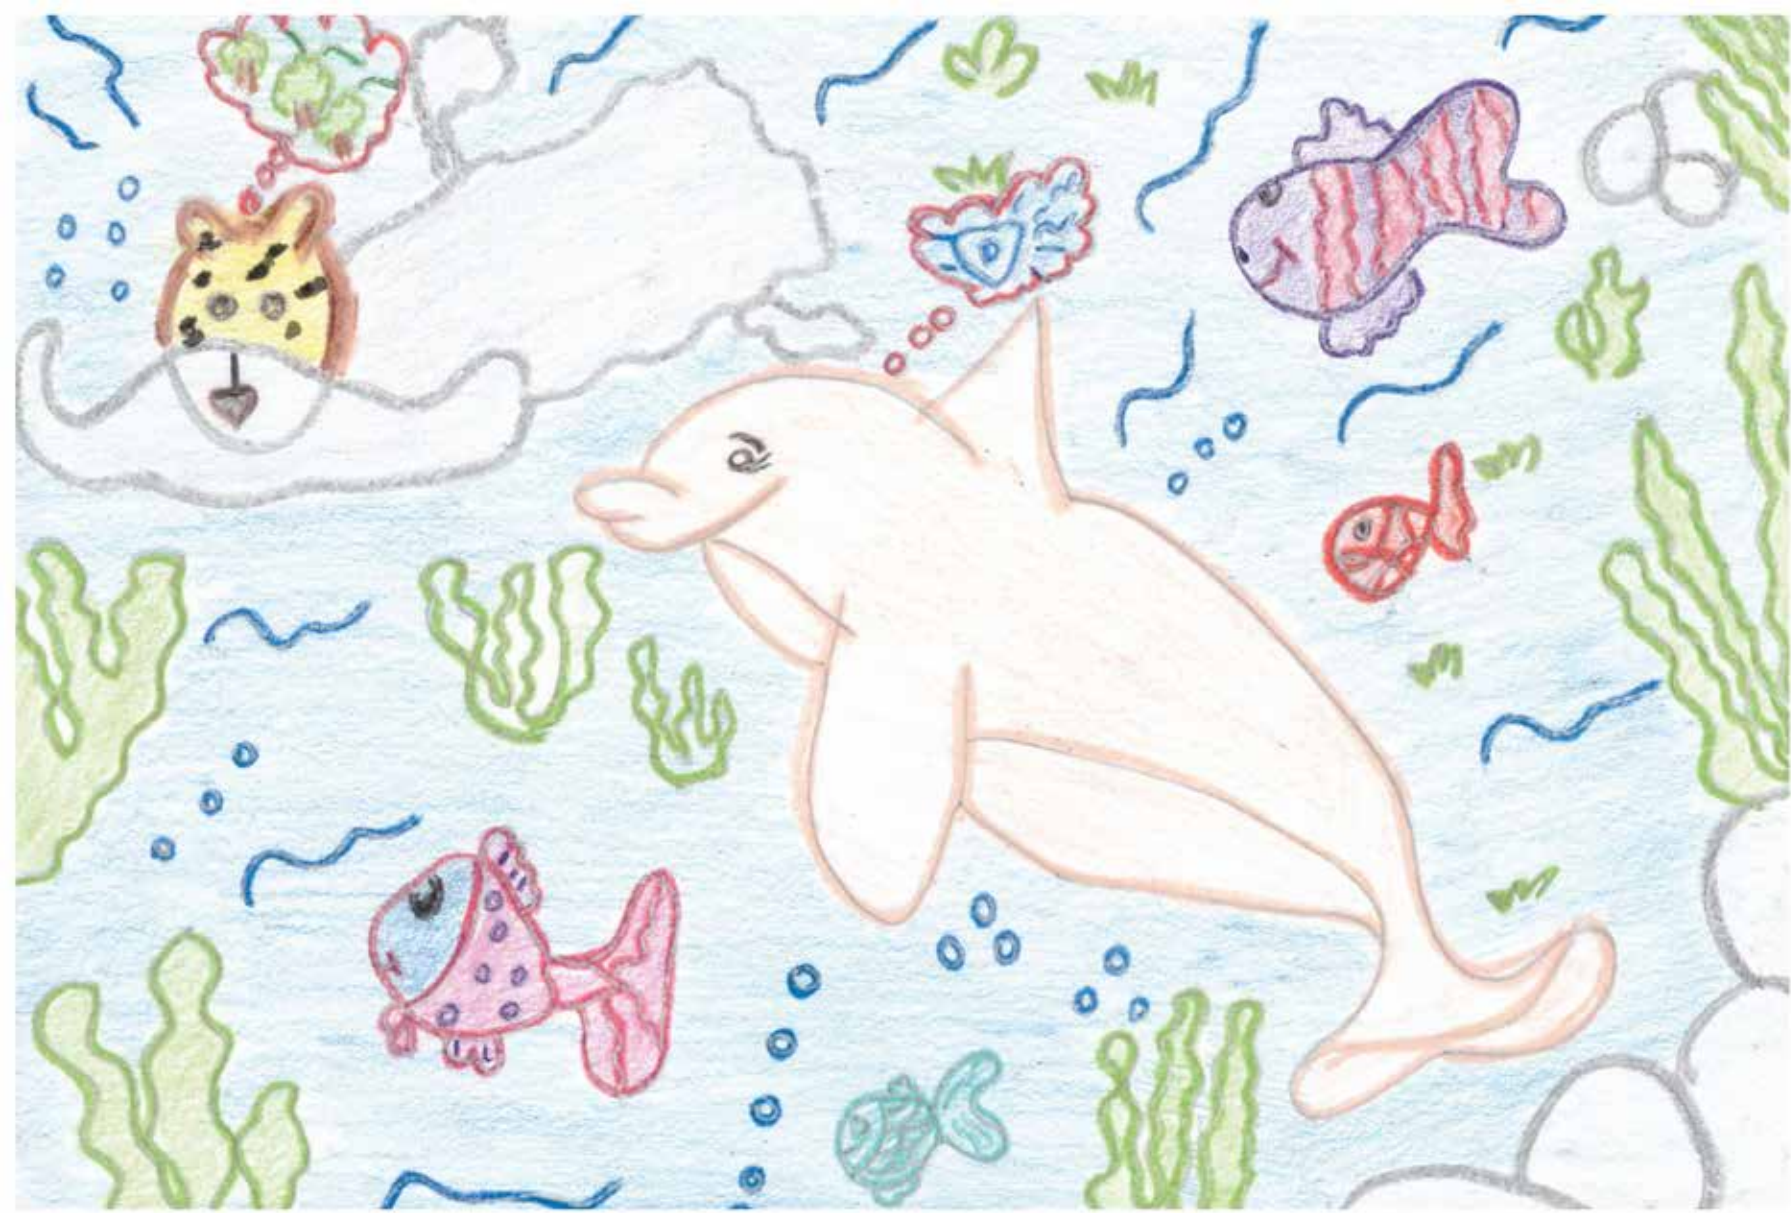

the ocelot told the dolphin about the singing of the birds, the smell of rain, the vibrant color of the flowers and the beauty of the rainbow.

the dolphin wanted to see the forest and the ocelot also wanted to go under the river, but neither of them could. they remembered that there was a very lucky living being on earth, who could visit both places!!!

That being is wonderful, his name is Leonardo, said the ocelot. With his imagination he has built suits to be able to swim underwater, and even he has put on wings to fly, even reaching stellar space. We must find him so that he help us to know each other's home!!!

And that's how these 2 Friends explore the beauty in each of their habitats, amazed and lucky they made a promise:

They decide to be guardians of the river and the forest, so that it would always be a beautiful place to visit, they took care of their homes like a magical treasure, so that all humans could visit them and be happy.

Moral: Every living being has a very important role on the planet, if you take care of it, you take care of others and yourself. We are part of a single home called Earth.